Chukchansi's Vintage Steakhouse is a one-of-a-kind culinary destination delivering incredible cuisine, charm and service that have made it a favorite across the Valley. The menu, offering the best in American steakhouse cuisine nightly, focuses on top-quality steaks and chops, and fresh seafood, paired with an extensive wine selection from California's famed wine country. Guests can enjoy signature starters such as jumbo lump crab cakes and succulent seafood towers, indulgent entrees including the double-cut pork chop, filet mignon, 32-ounce porterhouse, and more. No meal is complete without a delicious side, such as Vintage Steakhouse's lobster mac & cheese.

"It's an incredible honor to earn Wine Spectator's Restaurant Award of Excellence for the third consecutive year," said Vintage Steakhouse's Food & Beverage Director, Frank Rigley. "We work diligently to consistently deliver the best wine experience in the Valley. At Vintage Steakhouse, we combine an understanding of our guests' wine preferences with expert wine knowledge to create wine lists that are intriguing and unique, but most of all tasty."

Wine Spectator began its program to recognize the world's best wine lists in 1981. The Award of Excellence recognizes restaurants with thoughtfully chosen lists, containing both quality and diverse selections.
